

Jack Dani & The New Standards truly transport audiences back in time. They specialize in taking all your favorite songs from the last 20+ years and recreating them as swanky jazzy hits or your favorite 1920's decadent Gatsby sound.

Show band producer Dani Armstrong is best known for her work with Postmodern Jukebox, over 40 million views of her singing videos on the internet, and an extensive career in the music industry for the last 20 years.

Dani created the character "Jack Dani" who fronts The New Standards and has cast leading lady vocalists from all over the country in this show stopping band. A croonin', boppin', ragtime gal of the 1920's, 1930's and the 1940's, "Jack Dani" is sure to have guests singing along to songs they didn't know could travel in a time machine!
